

November 25 is release day for Förnuft och Känsla's 2nd album "Målsrydskiosken"

The repertoire was tried during a countryside tour where one of the highlights was a concert by the local pizzeria/newsstand/kiosk in the tiny village Målsryd. That's where "Målsrydskiosken" was born. In the contrasting spirit of urban and rural; old and new. The sense and the sensibility. Ying and yang.

The band's debut album "Jane Austen Texas" (2020) received a warm response from listeners and media and was recorded by the band themselves in the rehearsal room in an almost punky fashion. The sequel "Målsrydskiosken" is recorded in the studio Vajberiet by Markus Göransson and includes music from the band members but also a few well picked jazz standards in new arrangements. Everything put together on a lovely limited edition LP issue. Also available on the streaming platforms.

Förnuft & Känsla is the collaboration between three highly in demand musicians on the Swedish jazz scene with original and unique expressions of themselves. Together they make music made up of challenging rhythms and abstract concepts but at the same time naive melodies and raw energy that somehow makes everything easy to digest. A paradox? We leave that for the listener to evaluate!

The band: Fabian Kallerdahl - Piano
Alfred Lorinius - Bass
Johan Birgenius - Drums

Singles: Sept 30th: Byn i Staden
Oct 14th: Sense and Sensibility
Nov 4th: Blues Vaccine

Concerts: Nov 23rd: Ingesund, Arvika
Nov 24th: Bakgården, Karlstad
Nov 25th: Unity, Göteborg
Nov 26th: Glenn Miller Café, Stockholm

cat no: HOOBLP098
distr: Border/the Orchard

HOOB
Records